Roberts Paideia Students to Create Pinwheels for Peace

Students at Roberts Paideia Academy will take part in Pinwheels for Peace, an international art and literacy project that allows students to express their feelings about what's going on in the world and in their lives. The students will create pinwheels of their own design and will write their thoughts about war and peace, tolerance, and living in harmony with others. On September 21, 2009 – the International Day of Peace – the students will assemble holding their pinwheels. At the end of the day, they can take their creations home to share with their families.
